

Alsace Rising

By Baroness Sheri de Borchgrave

Domaines Schlumberger

In the village of Guebwiller I met Severine Schlumberger and her uncle Alain, the seventh generation to work Domaines Schlumberger's super-steep Grand Cru Kitterlé vineyards. A champion for pinot gris, Severine urged me one afternoon to try it with every classic specialty of Alsace. "Choucroute without Riesling would be a shame," she said. "Pinot gris is the way to go, with tarte flambé and with foie gras—ooh la la."
