

TASTING ALSACE

Pinot Gris Grand Cru Kitterlé 2001 93 / 100

Bordering on vendange tardive style, this luscious, medium-dry white is concentrated and intense. Quince paste, apricot and pastry flavours come to mind. Seamless, resonating on the long finish. Drink now through 2010

Pinot Gris Grand Cru Spiegel 2002 90 / 100

Lush, open and immediately appealing for its violet, quince and vanilla aromas and flavors matched to a soft, yet lively, structure, ending with a grapefruit aftertaste. Drink now through 2010

Gewurztraminer Grand Cru Kitterlé 2002 90 / 100

This is a showing some development, along with a vanilla note accenting its grapefruit and spice flavors. Balanced, with a supple texture, it's ready now. Typical grapefruit bitterness boots the finish Drink now through 2008

Bruce Sanderson

Gewurztraminer Grand Cru Kessler 2002 89 / 100

The varietal flavors are more muted here, with honey, grapefruit and spice picking up more intensity toward the finish. It's more angular, with good length and a bitter finish.
